Please be advised that although H Line will be down on a rotating basis, job bids will continue to be posted regularly. We encourage you to check for new job bids each week. To stay updated, you may consider stopping by the Plant, reaching out to your representative, or reviewing the weekly bulletin for any bids that may interest you. We must keep the bidding process moving forward and are unable to delay posting job bids. We appreciate your attention to this matter.

UPDATES

This week we will see lower production numbers and shorter hours than normal in most areas. This is due to a late material delivery from one of our suppliers. Note some areas may work longer hours during this time (pre-delivery, garage etc) As always this is subject to change.

On Tuesday January 21, 2025, your bargaining team started negotiations with the company. Please have patience with us as we are working to secure our membership a new local agreement, and may need extra time to respond and address concerns.
